The Gladiolus Beautiful

There are many lovers of the Gladiolus who like to grow these handsome flowers in a wide variety of colors without regard to names or labels. For those who prefer to grow them in mixture, we made up our now famous RAINBOW MIXTURE. We are constantly improving this assortment every year by adding new varieties.

ONE OF OUR GLADIOLUS FIELDS

RAINBOW MIXTURE OF GLADIOLUS

This is a general assortment of many different varieties of Gladiolus, containing about all the colors of the rainbow. It is composed entirely of named varieties (unlabeled). There are no inferior discarded seedlings in this assortment such as some growers put into their mixtures. On the other hand it contains many varieties which sold at high prices when first introduced. A marvelous diversity of tints, shades and markings. Treat yourself to some of these beauties. It is intensely interesting to watch the different varieties open their beautiful colors. All large size bulbs.

TIME REQUIRED TO BLOOM

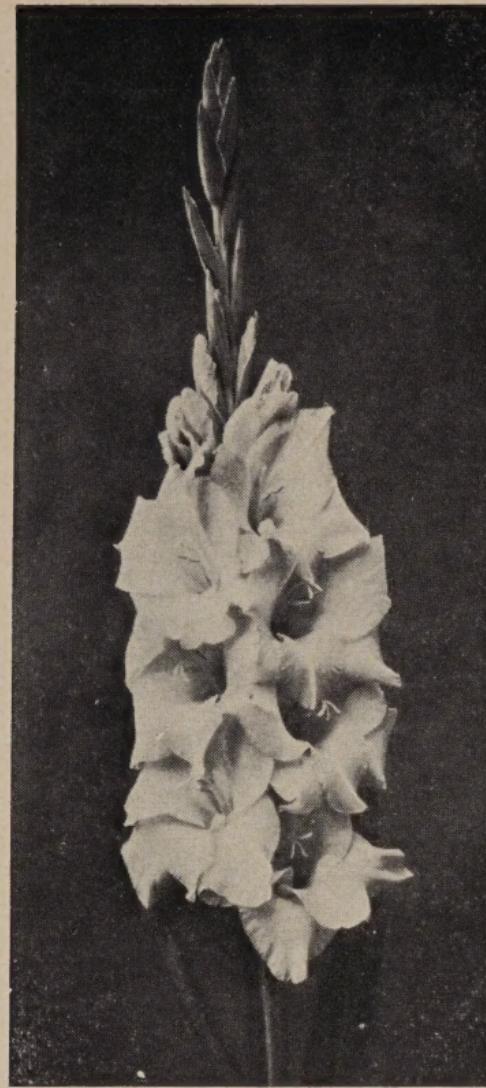

The number of days required to bloom depends on the latitude, weather, kind of soil, size of bulbs, depth of planting, etc., so that I consider the tables given by some growers as unreliable. I prefer to class them as EE—extra early; E—Early; EM—early medium; M—medium; LM—late medium; and L—late. An early variety will take about 70 to 75 days; medium, 85 days; and late, 95 days. These figures, however, are only approximate.

CULTURE OF GLADIOLUS

If you can grow potatoes you can grow Gladiolus. Plant in any good garden soil as soon as ground is workable up to the first of June. If several plantings are made at different times the season of bloom will be lengthened. Do not plant in shade of trees or buildings, and do not allow fresh manure to come in direct contact with bulbs. Use well-rotted manure, commercial fertilizer, wood ashes, or bone meal, well mixed with the soil. Set the bulbs five to six inches deep in rows and about three to four inches between each bulb. Rows about 18 inches apart. Or may be massed in beds about four inches apart each way. If planted in quantity and to be cultivated with a horse make rows 30 to 36 inches apart. Keep soil loose and free from weeds. When cutting flower spike let at least four leaves remain on the plant to allow the bulb to mature properly. Dig bulbs in the fall, cut off tops, and after drying in the open air for a few days store away in a dry, cool but frost proof place in the cellar. Cultural direction sheet is included free with every order.

On account of its good keeping qualities the Gladiolus surpasses all other flowers for cutting purposes, and in order to obtain the utmost pleasure from the blooms you should place them in vases in the house. The Gladiolus is particularly adapted to table decoration. Cut the spike in the morning or evening when the first bud opens, leaving at least four leaves on the plant to mature the bulb. Change the water daily, remove the withered portions, and cut (on a slant) an inch or so from the end of each stem. Every bud will open one by one to the very top, and a vase of blooms may be kept fresh and beautiful for a week or ten days.

Pronounce Gladiolus With the Accent on the "o"

REMEMBER: FLOWERS BRING GOOD CHEER

PHYLLIS MCQUISTON

ONE OF OUR GLADIOLUS FIELDS

INSECTS

As a rule, Gladiolus are not bothered very much with insects, except that late years very minute insects called Thrips have been giving some trouble in certain parts of the country. If you failed to obtain good bloom last summer, buds drying up, etc., the chances are that thrips were to blame. These insects are so small that when young they are almost invisible to the naked eye, and are very easily overlooked. After your old bulbs have been cleaned of the old bulbs and roots, which operation is best done in late November or early December after they have been drying a few weeks, sprinkle Naphthalene Flakes over the bulbs at the rate of about 1 oz. (four level tablespoonfuls) to 100 bulbs. If in paper bag, fold over top; if in tray or box, cover with newspaper; and let stand a month or two. Most of the flakes will evaporate, and the rest may be removed. This kills the thrips which winter over on the bulbs. Do not use naphthalene in the soil. Will mail a box of Naphthalene Flakes sufficient to treat 1000 bulbs for 25c. This price includes postage to Zone 4. More distant points, 5c extra. Write for price in quantity.

If you have had trouble with thrips you had better, in addition to the naphthalene treatment, spray your glad plants as soon as up a few inches, with some good insecticide spray, and repeat every ten days.

KEEP YOUR BULBS HEALTHY

If your bulbs have become scabby or diseased, they may be benefited and possibly cured by the following process: In the spring, just before planting, soak your bulbs for an hour or two in a solution of 4 teaspoonfuls of LYSOL to 1 gallon of water. Bulbs may be planted immediately, or dried and planted later. This treatment will also kill any thrips and eggs which may be on your bulbs, but does not completely take the place of the naphthalene flakes, as the flakes kill during the winter before the insects have a chance to breed in storage.

There is nothing quite equal to Gladiolus for long lasting bouquets for the house. Plant plenty of them.

DAHLIAS

No garden is complete without at least a few choice Dahlias. These handsome flowers are easily grown, and reward the gardener with gorgeous blooms. Plant in May or early June, at least 3 ft. apart, and about 5 inches deep, laying the tuber flat, with the eye or sprout within a couple of inches of a stake previously driven. Light soil preferred, not too rich. Lighten heavy soils with peat moss, sand or coal ashes. Keep fertilizer from direct contact with tuber. After frost kills the plant, dig the clump, being careful not to break the necks of the tubers, and store in dry earth, sand or peat moss, in a cool but frost-proof cellar. Divide the clump into single tubers in the spring before planting. Roots sent after April 15th unless otherwise ordered, as eyes show plainer.

Types: (B) Ball; (D) Decorative; (C) Cactus.

Prices are prepaid. Spring delivery.

Price per dozen is 10 times the single price.

3 of a kind will be sold at the dozen rate.

MINIATURE DAHLIAS

MINIATURE DAHLIAS

A rapidly increasing interest in the miniature type of Dahlias is being noticed. These are similar in form to the large Dahlias, but are $2\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches in diameter and the flowers are borne on compact plants of moderate height, which usually require no staking. The smaller size of the flowers adapts them for table decoration and basket work where the larger types might not be suitable. Freedom of bloom insures an abundant supply of flowers over a long season.
